

Support ocean conservation & tell stories about national marine sanctuaries

Project Title	Support ocean conservation & tell stories about national marine sanctuaries
Project Summary	Help us tell stories about America's underwater treasures by researching and writing articles about your National Marine Sanctuary System for sanctuaries.noaa.gov.
Country	United States

Project Description

Join the NOAA Office of National Marine Sanctuaries and help tell stories of your national marine sanctuaries! We're seeking help crafting articles for sanctuaries.noaa.gov. The articles you write will help inform the public about current events, research, and natural and cultural resources in the National Marine Sanctuary System. Articles can and will be tailored to your interests and knowledge.

Tasks may include brainstorming and researching topics, interviewing subject matter experts, locating images, and writing and editing text. You'll work with the Office of National Marine Sanctuaries writer/editor to develop your stories.

We're looking for an individual who has strong writing and editing skills and a knack for telling stories. Familiarity with ocean conservation and ocean science is helpful but not a necessity. You'll gain experience writing for the web and with web best practices, and you'll increase your familiarity with ocean conservation topics and science writing.

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)

Editing and proofreading

Storytelling/blogging/vlogging

Writing

Additional Information

For more information about NOAA's Office of National Marine Sanctuaries, check out sanctuaries.noaa.gov. You can see examples of our web writing at sanctuaries.noaa.gov/news.

Language Requirements

None